

The Strasbourg Principles of International Environmental Human Rights Law are indispensable for future-proofing human rights law in light of the multiple environmental challenges upon us. Every judge, in fact every member of the relevant legal community, should know them.

Christina Voigt

Chair IUCN World Commission on Environmental Law,
Professor of Law, University of Oslo

The Strasbourg Principles of International Environmental Human Rights Law