

The Strasbourg Principles provide very current guidelines and parameters for environmental justice, taking into account the main challenges that local and international tribunals have faced regarding environmental, Nature and climate cases. Therefore, these principles contribute directly to the aims of climate justice for everyone and the planet.

Jorge Calderón Gamboa

Independent Expert of the UN Program - Harmony with Nature,
Visiting Professor at the UN-mandated University for Peace

The Strasbourg Principles of International Environmental Human Rights Law